

COMPLIANT JURISDICTIONS

As it relates to Volatile Organic Compound (VOC) content, PROSOCO products are manufactured and marketed in compliance with the US Environmental Protection Agency's AIM VOC regulations. This table provides information regarding product compliance with individual state and district jurisdictions more restrictive than the US EPA rule. States not listed follow the national US EPA regulation.

ENQ: Concrete Protector WB and Stone Tile & Masonry Protector (STMP) are for USA domestic use only because the products contain a proprietary ingredient subject to export notification. The export notification is required for Canada and Mexico, including for US distributors with Canadian outlets. Restrictions for sale and use are because of export notification regulations and requirements; the products' VOC content is compliant with Canadian regulations.

Fast Acting Stripper*: Use in California is prohibited effective 03/02/19 due to regulations impacting paint strippers and methylene chloride. Restriction on use has nothing to do with VOC content.
